ISRAEL

(Zech.12:3 & 9 - The Burdensome Stone)

Zechariah 12:3 "And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it."

Headline: Hamas TV: Death to the Jews and to America

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu is accusing the international community of double standards, saying it condemns Israeli settlements in the West Bank but not Palestinians' refusal to renew peace talks or militant group Hamas' call for the end of the Jewish state. Israel was widely condemned recently when it announced it would proceed with Jewish housing in a strategic area near Jerusalem after the U.N. accepted Palestine as a non-member observer state. Construction would be years away but the decision drew wide condemnation and Israeli diplomats were reprimanded.

Headline: Swedish foreign minister says E1 settlement plan has changed EU's view of Israel

Palestinian Authority President Mahmoud Abbas said on Sunday that his government will have no choice but to turn to the International Court of Justice in The Hague in an attempt to force Israel to stop construction in area E1 between Jerusalem and Maaleh Adumim and to transfer the tax money Israel traditionally has collected for the authority but has withheld since Abbas won U.N. nonmember state recognition on Nov. 29. Speaking at a conference of Arab League foreign ministers in Doha, Qatar, Abbas said, "This [Israel's intention to construct housing units in E1] is an illegal move, one which the international community must stop immediately. The move will bring about the end of the two-state vision. Such moves leave us with no choice." The upgraded status of "Palestine" as a nonmember state permits PA leaders to apply to U.N. organizations, such as the international court, for assistance.

Chief Palestinian negotiator Saeb Erekat said Monday that the Palestinian Authority plans to launch a new initiative to renew negotiations with Israel, which would include the release of prisoners and a halt to settlement construction. Speaking on Ramallah-based Voice of Palestine radio, Erekat said that he will be initiating the move in cooperation with international officials next month, in an effort to renew talks with Israel over a final status solution. Erekat said the initiative includes the resumption of negotiations from where they were left off, with an insistence on ending the occupation. Erekat emphasized that the Palestinian leadership has allotted solely six months for the initiative.

Headline: Arabs offer Palestinians $100 million a month "financial safety net"

Arab states agreed to provide the Palestinian Authority with a $100 million monthly "financial safety net" to help President Mahmoud Abbas's government cope with an economic crisis after the United Nations granted de facto statehood to Palestine. Israel has responded to the November 29 U.N. vote by ordering 3,000 Jewish settler homes be built in the occupied West Bank and announced it would hold back payments of customs duties it collects on behalf of the Palestinians to pay an outstanding electricity bill. In a statement on Sunday after a meeting in Doha, Arab foreign ministers called for the immediate implementation of a resolution passed at an Arab summit in Baghdad in March, which called for the provision of a $100 million monthly safety net. The statement did not give details of how the money would be paid or who would pay, but Arab League Secretary-General Nabil Elaraby said a mechanism has been agreed. "The mechanism is that the chair of the committee (Qatar) and the secretary-general will contact each country with the exact amount they have to pay," Elaraby told Reuters after the meeting. "I said I want an answer in 15 days," he added.

Headline: Injured Syrians pour into Jordan amid border battle

Ten injured Syrians arrived in Jordan Sunday evening, officials said, amid intensified clashes between regime and rebel forces over control of the border region. According to a Jordanian security source, the injured Syrians arrived in the Jordanian villages of Al Turra and Thneib after fleeing violence in the border town of Tal Shihab. Authorities transferred the Syrians, who sustained shrapnel injuries and bullet wounds, to the nearby Ramtha Public Hospital for treatment, added the source, who is stationed along the border region and requested anonymity because he was not authorised to speak to the media. As of late Sunday, four of the injured Syrians were listed in “critical condition”. Sunday’s arrivals are the first of what officials expect to be a flood of injured Syrians as Damascus launched a military offensive to regain control of large swathes of land and its shared borders with Jordan.

Hezbollah

Israel’s ambassador to the US Michael Oren warned that any evidence of chemical weapons being passed from the Assad regime to extremist groups like Hezbollah would be a “game-changer,” and a “red line” for Israel. The remark was made to Fox News Sunday amid claims that the Syrian regime is mixing and moving the components for the deadly sarin nerve gas. Ambassador Oren said he could not confirm those reports but made clear that Israel is watching the situation “very carefully.” “We have a very clear red line about those chemical weapons passing into the wrong hands. Can you imagine if Hezbollah and its 70,000 rockets would get its hands on chemical weapons? That could kill thousands of people."

Sectarian clashes linked to the 21-month conflict in Syria killed six people and wounded 40 in neighboring Lebanon on Sunday, a security official said, according to AFP. The latest fighting in the northern city of Tripoli between Sunni Muslims and Alawite co-religionists of Syrian President Bashar al-Assad came amid growing international concern about the potential for neighboring countries to be dragged into the conflict. Sunni residents of the port city's Bab al-Tebbaneh district exchanged machinegun and rocket fire with Alawite residents of the neighboring Jabal Mohsen district, leaving three members of each community dead, the security official told AFP. The fighting, which erupted before dawn, broke a tense calm that had held since the army deployed troops between the two impoverished neighborhoods early on Friday.

Headline: Mursi gives military powers to arrest civilians ahead of mass rallies

Egyptian President Mohamed Mursi has given Egypt's army the powers of arrest and ordered it to "cooperate" with police until after the results of the Dec. 15 referendum on the disputed draft constitution. The presidential decree, which is to appear on Tuesday in the government's official gazette under "Law 107," was issued ahead of rival mass protests on Tuesday over the referendum. The decision indicates how jittery the government is about the referendum scheduled for next Saturday amid increasingly vocal opposition. Egypt's powerful army, which is trying to remain neutral, warned on Saturday it "will not allow" a worsening of the crisis and said both sides must hold dialogue. Mursi has made a key concession to the opposition on the weekend by rescinding a decree giving himself wide-ranging powers free from judicial challenge. But his determination to see through the disputed referendum infuriated the opposition National Salvation Front, which has said no talks are possible if it goes ahead.

Leading member of the Salafist Call in Alexandria Saeed Abdel-Azim warned on Monday of an "Islamic revolution" if Egypt's political opposition "attempted to overthrow" the country's elected president, Mohamed Morsi. "If secularists try to topple President Morsi or storm the presidential palace, we will not stand still," Abdel-Azim declared at a Monday conference in the coastal city of Alexandria. "We will organise a massive Islamic revolution in Egypt involving unprecedented numbers." The popular Salafist preacher also accused leaders of Egypt's political opposition of "receiving foreign funds" and of being influenced by the US, which, he alleged, was trying to sow chaos in Egypt for Israel's sake. "They are the enemies of Islam," Abdel-Azim said of certain opposition leaders.

New King James Version (NKJV)

- 24 Damascus has grown feeble;
She turns to flee,
And fear has seized her.
Anguish and sorrows have taken her like a woman in labor.
- 25 Why is the city of praise not deserted, the city of My joy?
- 26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets,
And all the men of war shall be cut off in that day," says the LORD of hosts.
- 27 "I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus,
And it shall consume the palaces of Ben-Hadad."^[a]

The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap.

Headline: Video shows traces of chemical weapons used against civilians in Syria

Global concerns over Syria's chemical weapons stockpiles grew after U.S. officials this week privately said the regime had begun mixing chemicals that could be used for the lethal nerve agent sarin. On Saturday, Syrian told the United Nations that it would never use chemical weapons against its peoples and warned that opposition fighters are the ones who could use chemical weapons. But videos uploaded on the web by activists proved otherwise. The video showed the destruction caused by what they identified as chemical weapons. They said the fire was caused by a tank dropped from a Syrian warplane and was uncontrollable by either water or dirt and was releasing toxic substance as it was bubbling underneath the ground. In another video, armed opposition captured equipment used as a protection against chemical weapons or gases. Some media reports said that the substance had been loaded into bombs for warplanes.

Hamas has no plans to stop arming itself and an Iranian official has indicated to WND/G2Bulletin that the Islamic republic intends to continue providing the Palestinian group with weapons, according to a report from Joseph Farah’s G2 Bulletin. Hamas’ deputy chief Moussa Abu Marzouk said that although the cease-fire with Israel and its decision to ease the Gaza border blockade is based on Hamas’ willingness to stop arming itself, that won’t happen. Marzouk said that Hamas needs the weapons to protect itself and will not stop obtaining and manufacturing them. An Iranian diplomat here gave WND/G2Bulletin similar indications that such arms shipments not only will continue, but Iran will help ensure that Hamas remains close to the Islamic republic.

Hours after NATO agreed on Tuesday to send Patriot missiles to Turkey because of the crisis in Syria, Russia delivered its first shipment of Iskander missiles to Syria. The superior Iskander can travel at hypersonic speed of over 1.3 miles per second (Mach 6-7) and has a range of over 280 miles with pinpoint accuracy of destroying targets with its 1,500-pound warhead, a nightmare for any missile defense system. According to Mashregh, the Iranian Revolutionary Guard media outlet, Russia had warned Turkey not to escalate the situation, but with Turkey’s request for Patriot missiles, it delivered its first shipment of Iskanders to Syria. Reporting today, Mashregh said the handover occurred when Russian naval logistic vessels docked at Tartus in Syria.

A deal on the planned single supervisor for banks in the eurozone will come about only if it meets German demands limiting the European Central Bank's (ECB) responsibility. EU ambassadors in Brussels were set to meet Monday evening (10 December) for what diplomats said would most likely be an "all-nighter" in a last attempt to thrash out a compromise on the banking supervisor before a gathering of finance ministers on Wednesday dedicated to the topic. At the core of the dispute is Germany's view that the ECB should not be made responsible for overseeing all 6,200 banks in the eurozone, as the EU commission, France and the ECB are advocating for, but rather for national supervisors to bear the responsibility for things going wrong in the smaller banks and for the ECB overseeing just the larger ones. Non-eurozone countries have also raised concerns about voting rights and a level playing field between banks inside and outside the new supervision scheme. But according to an EU source, "if Germany agrees, others like Poland, will follow."

Headline: Food stamp use reaches another high in September: 47.7 million participants

Participation in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, or food stamps, reached another high in September, according to new data released by the United States Department of Agriculture. The most recent data on SNAP participation were released Friday, and showed that 47,710,324 people were enrolled in the program in September, an increase of 607,559 from the 47,102,765 enrolled in August. The number of households enrolled in the program also increased from 22,684,463 in August to 22,973,698 in September, an increase of 289,235. The average benefit, according to the new data, was $134.29 per person and $278.89 per household. Texas, California, and Florida were the states with the most recipients, the Agriculture Department reported. The new numbers mean that an estimated one in 6.5 people in America were on food stamps in September. In the 1970s, one out of every 50 Americans was on food stamps. Since 2001, spending on the program has quadrupled and doubled in the last four years.

Headline: Unemployment Is Not Going Down: The Employment Rate Has Been Under 59 Percent For 39 Months In A Row

Headline: Dollar Falls Before Fed Considers Added Monetary Stimulus

The mainstream media is heralding the decline of the official unemployment rate to 7.7 percent as evidence that the U.S. economy is improving. But it is a giant lie. The truth is that unemployment in America is not actually going down. The percentage of working age Americans with a job actually dropped slightly in November. During the last recession, the percentage of working age Americans with a job fell from about 63 percent to under 59 percent and it has stayed there for 39 months in a row. In September 2009, during the depths of the last economic crisis, 58.7 percent of all working age Americans were employed. In November 2012, 58.7 percent of all working age Americans were employed. It is more than 3 years later, and we are in the exact same place! So how in the world are they able to pretend that the "unemployment rate" is going down steadily? Well, they get there by pretending that hundreds of thousands of unemployed workers "leave the labor force" each month. According to the government, another 350,000 Americans left the labor force during November, and when you keep pretending that huge chunks of workers "disappear" each month it is easy to get the "unemployment rate" to go down.

Headline: IMF's Lagarde warns against US fudge on fiscal cliff

The United States needs to raise taxes and cut spending to address the looming fiscal cliff, IMF chief Christine Lagarde said Sunday, warning that anything less would undermine economic confidence. With President Barack Obama and Republican lawmakers stuck in an apparently ideological battle on how to address the nation's ballooning deficit by the end of 2012, Lagarde said the cliff remained the biggest threat to the economy. Speaking on CNN's "State of the Union" talk show, she said that although the US economy was creating jobs, American debt was still higher than in much of the eurozone and cautioned against more half-baked, short-term measures. "The best way to go forward is to have a balanced approach that takes into account both increasing the revenue, which means raising tax or creating new sources of revenue, and cutting spending as well," Lagarde said.

The announced time window of North Korea's rocket launch began as of 7:00 AM on Monday. North Korea has hinted at a possible postponement of the plan. But other nations remain on alert for the launch until a final decision by the North is confirmed. North Korea plans to launch what it calls a satellite-carrying rocket from the Tongchang-ri launch site in the northwestern part of the country. The window of opportunity is from Monday through December 22nd, between 7:00 AM and noon. The launch is widely believed to be North Korea's test of a long-range missile. North Korea has informed an international organization that the rocket will be fired in the southerly direction.

Prophecy Sign: Pestilence & Plagues Luke 21:11 & Revelation 6:8

“And there will be great earthquakes in various places, and famines and pestilences; and there will be fearful sights and great signs from heaven.” (Luke)

“So I looked, and behold, a pale horse. And the name of him who sat on it was Death, and Hades followed with him. And power was given to them over a fourth of the earth, to kill with sword, with hunger, with death (Thanatos in Greek meaning the death of the body whether natural or violent), and by the beasts of the earth” (Revelation)

Headline: Deadly hospital super-bug started in North America, say DNA detectives

A deadly bug that has claimed thousands of lives around the world began in North America, a study has found. Scientists traced the origins of Clostridium difficile (C.diff) to two separate drug-resistant strains that emerged in the US and Canada. Both produce tough spores that spread easily over long distances - even between continents - and are hard to eradicate. However, the scientists said they didn't know if the bug spread due to international travel as they were following the trail of the pathogen rather than infected people. The strains, FQR1 and FQR2, went on to spark a global epidemic in the early to mid 2000s.

Headline: Cholera outbreak in Cuba kept mostly quiet

Cuba, especially the eastern third of the island, is suffering an alarming outbreak of cholera, brewed in its decrepit water and sewer systems and fueled by Hurricane Sandy's floods, according to residents. More than a dozen deaths have been reliably reported. Hospitals and prisons have been quarantined at times. Schools have been shut down, and so have restaurants and street kiosks selling juices and others products made with water. Government buildings have established hand and shoe disinfecting stands at their entrances. Some public health officials have gone door to door asking if anyone is suffering from diarrhea, vomiting or fevers, and others distributed water purification tablets. Cuba's government has said nothing publicly about cholera since Aug. 28, when it announced that an outbreak in the eastern city of Manzanillo - the first in a century - had ended after 417 confirmed cases, three fatal.

Prophecy Sign: Animal Deaths Hosea 4:1-3 & Ezekiel 38:20 & Zephaniah 1:3

"I will consume man and beast; I will consume the birds of the heavens, The fish of the sea, And the stumbling blocks along with the wicked. I will cut off man from the face of the land," Says the LORD.
(Zephaniah)

"There is no faithfulness, no love, no acknowledgment of God in the land. There is only cursing, lying and murder, stealing and adultery; they break all bounds, and bloodshed follows bloodshed. Because of this the land mourns, and all who live in it waste away; the beasts of the field and the birds of the air and the fish of the sea are dying. [Hosea 4:1-3]

The fish of the sea, the birds of the air, the beasts of the field, every creature that moves along the ground, and all the people on the face of the earth will tremble at my presence. The mountains will be overturned, the cliffs will crumble and every wall will fall to the ground. [Ezekiel 38:20]

Headline: Taiwan: Hundreds of chickens destroyed in response to avian influenza outbreak

Some 631 chickens were destroyed at one Taiwanese farm in an effort to prevent further spread of an outbreak of highly pathogenic avian influenza virus (HPAI), according to a World Organization for Animal Health (OIE) immediate notification report Dec. 7. The outbreak occurred on a farm in Ma-Gong City in Peng-hu prefecture. The owner of the farm called in Taiwanese veterinary experts to check on an unusually high number of bird deaths in November. The farm had more than 800 susceptible chickens, in which 200 had already died. The remaining 631 birds were culled as a precautionary measure. Laboratory analysis by the Animal Health Research Institute revealed positive findings for HPAI serotype H5N2 using reverse transcription - polymerase chain reaction (RT-PCR) and intravenous pathogenicity index (IVPI) test.

Headline: Rebels confiscating Christian properties, desecrating Christian symbols

Minority Christians in Syria's largest city Aleppo said they face starvation after dozens of believers already died in targeted attacks rocking Christian areas of the war-torn country. "Bread isn't found since last week, there is no wheat in the city and of course fuel is not available so...bakeries are not working," said Majd Aji, whose father runs a Baptist church in Aleppo, where airstrikes and gun battles transformed buildings into heaps of rubble. Witnesses saw children fighting for food. Most of the city, 310 kilometers (193 miles) northwest from capital Damascus, is now reportedly under rebel control but the situation remains tense, Aji said in an email obtained by BosNewsLife.

Prophecy Sign: Increase in Drugs Revelation 9:21

"And they did not repent of their murders or their sorceries or their sexual immorality or their thefts."

Comment: In Revelation 9:21 we see Jesus speaking to us about drug's. The words "magic arts" in Revelation 9:21 is the Greek word pharmakia from which comes our word "pharmacy". It signifies the use of medicine, drugs, spells, such as those used in witchcraft and those used today by those who are seeking a greater "high". This generation was to be labeled a drug generation and we are.

Headline: Governor signs Amendment 64, marijuana officially legal in Colorado

Go ahead and bust out the Cheetos and Goldfish, Colorado. Marijuana is now legal in the Centennial State. Just over a month after the citizens of Colorado voted in overwhelming favor of Amendment 64 to legalize marijuana for recreational use, Governor John Hickenlooper signed the Executive Order that makes an "official declaration of the vote." What does it mean? "It formalizes the amendment as part of the state Constitution and makes legal the personal use, possession and limited home-growing of marijuana under Colorado law for adults 21 years of age and older," the Governor's office wrote in a press release. That said, the release went on to say that that it is still illegal to buy or sell marijuana or to consume marijuana in public.

Headline: Philippines Jolted by 5.7 Magnitude Earthquake

A strong 5.6 magnitude earthquake just jolted the Philippines moments ago. The quake's epicenter was 9km E of Talisay. Presently there are no reports of any injuries or damage and no tsunami warnings were issued yet. The quake, which hit at approximately 5:45 a.m., according to the U.S. Geological Survey. The Philippine Institute of Volcanology and Seismology measured the magnitude at 5.7 and close to land. "There was no damage, no casualties," Civil Defense chief Benito Ramos said after the temblor hit. "The earthquake was strong, and very close to land, we all felt it said one source" Surigao del Sur provincial administrator Efren Rivas said about 1,000 Tandag residents fled to the elevated grounds when the quake struck.

Headline: Deadly Typhoon Bopha makes U-turn back to Philippines

Heavy rain brought flooding fears in the north of the storm-battered Philippines as Typhoon Bopha returned today, days after slamming into the south of the country and leaving almost 1,400 dead or missing. While the powerful typhoon had weakened to a tropical storm, it was still causing downpours in the north even as hundreds in the south struggled to recover from its fury, said civil defense chief Benito Ramos. "It will bring rain, not so much wind. We anticipate flash floods and landslides. We expect low-lying areas to be flooded again," Ramos told AFP. Local relief and rescue teams along with the military were in position while residents were on alert for rising waters. Officials said 548 people are confirmed dead after Bopha struck last week. The National Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Council said 827 are missing, a sharp rise on earlier estimates of about 500 unaccounted for.

The Arab Spring in Prophecy

(Perilous Times Luke 21:9 & Nation against Nation, Kingdom against Kingdom Matt.24:7)

(Revelation 6:3-4 Revelation 6:8)

"For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.
There will be earthquakes in various places, and there will be famines and sedition; these are the beginning of the labor pains."

Mark 13:8

CIVIL UNREST

Luke 21:9 and Matthew 24:7 speak of nation against nation and kingdom against kingdom in the end times. Revelation 6:3-4 speaks of the fiery red horse given power to make men slay one another and Revelation 6:8 speaks again of this red horse in conjunction with the pale horse of Death and Hades, as the one that has the power to kill by sword. I like to call this "The Arab Spring in Prophecy" because for us it is easy to identify- that's what the world calls it.

Luke 21:9: wars & commotions; the Greek word here is Akatastasia, meaning instability, a state of disorder, disturbance, confusion (revolutions)

Matthew 24:7: the Greek word for nation is Ethnos & refers to various ethnic groups fighting among themselves, where the next sentence in the verse refers to kingdoms (basileiva) fighting one another (not to be confused with an actual kingdom but rather the right or authority to rule over a kingdom) I have tried to separate it into areas that sweep EAST from the point of North America.

Headline: Canadian teachers begin rotating strikes

Teachers in Canada's Ontario province kicked off a series of rotating strikes Monday to protest government action limiting union rights. The teachers picked the Avon Maitland school district near Goderich and the Ontario North East district near Timmins to begin with. They say the strikes will move to Ottawa Wednesday and the Greater Toronto Area Thursday, the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. reported. The Elementary Teachers' Federation of Ontario has said it will give 72 hours' notice before any job action. The Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation says its members were to quit doing any non-classroom work such as spots and holiday concerts starting Monday. Union officials say the strikes are to show teachers' opposition to legislation that gives the government power to stop strikes and impose collective agreements.

Headline: Azeri riot police detain dozens of anti-govt. demonstrators

Riot police in Azerbaijan have detained dozens of opposition activists trying to stage a peaceful demonstration against the government of President Elham Aliyev in the capital Baku. The arrests came after hundreds of people gathered near the Fountains Square in central Baku on Monday where they demanded the resignation of President Aliyev and the dissolution of parliament. The opposition parties including Azerbaijan Popular Front Party and Musavat (equality) Party say the sitting lawmakers are corrupt and do not represent the will of the people.
