(Zech.12:3 & 9 - The Burdensome Stone)

Headline: Palestinians demand salaries as sanctions and cash crisis bite

Hundreds of Palestinian government workers protested outside their prime minister's office on Tuesday (January 15) saying they had not received a full salary in almost three months amid a deepening financial crisis. A cash shortfall in the Palestinian Authority worsened after Israel imposed sanctions following the West Bank government's successful bid to gain de-facto recognition of Palestine as a state at the U.N. General Assembly in November. The demonstration in downtown Ramallah was the latest in a series of sporadically violent protests over cuts and tough austerity measures in the Israel-occupied West Bank. Protesting alongside the government workers were farmers who had not received their subsidies since the government began searching for ways to plug a hole in its finances.

Headline: France to initiate Middle East peace plan

French President Francois Hollande said Wednesday that his country will take steps to initiate an Israeli-Palestinian peace plan immediately after Israel holds its elections on January 22, Israel Radio reported Wednesday. The European Union is reportedly preparing a detailed new peace plan sponsored by Britain and France. The plan is expected to include a demand to freeze all construction by Israel in the West Bank. Earlier Wednesday, France condemned Israel for what it called a “provocative and illegal” decision to expand settlement building in the West Bank, after the Housing Ministry announced tenders for 198 housing units for Jews in the West Bank.

Jeremiah 49:24-27

New King James Version (NKJV)

- 24 Damascus has grown feeble;
 She turns to flee,
 And fear has seized her.
 Anguish and sorrows have taken her like a woman in labor.
- 25 Why is the city of praise not deserted, the city of My joy?
- 26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets,
 And all the men of war shall be cut off in that day," says the LORD of hosts.
- 27 "I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus,
 And it shall consume the palaces of Ben-Hadad."^[a]

The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap.

— Isaiah 17:1 (KJV)

Headline: Russia says US blaming Aleppo blasts on Syria govt. 'blasphemous'

Rebels trying to break a months-long deadlock in their battle for Syria's second city Aleppo say they are cutting supply routes ahead of simultaneous assaults on regime bases. "The FSA (the rebel Free Syrian Army) is making new steps to liberate the city," Hajji Anadan, the non-military chief of the Al-Tawheed Brigade headquartered in Aleppo, told AFP in an interview on Wednesday. "We are focusing on military areas around Aleppo, the airports and the bases. And, thanks to God, we are surrounding them and step by step we will liberate them." The rebels are fighting regime troops at a base defending Aleppo's international airport, a strategic facility in the southeast of the city.

Headline: 106 Syrians, including women and children, killed in Homs 'massacre'

More than 100 people, including women and children, were killed in a "massacre" carried out by forces loyal to Syrian President Bashar Assad on Tuesday in Homs, a monitoring group said on Thursday. The Syrian Observatory for Human Rights said that some of the 106 victims were burned in their homes and others were either shot or stabbed when pro-Assad forces stormed Basatin al-Huwaisa, a district of the central Syrian city. According to DPA, the observatory said in a statement, "The people were either burnt inside their houses or stabbed to death," adding that the troops had stormed the area hunting for rebels fighting to oust Assad.

Iran: Jeremiah 49:34-39

"Thus says the LORD of hosts: 'Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, The foremost of their might. ³⁶ Against Elam I will bring the four winds From the four quarters of heaven, And scatter them toward all those winds; There shall be no nations where the outcasts of Elam will not go. ³⁷ For I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies And before those who seek their life. I will bring disaster upon them, My fierce anger,' says the LORD; 'And I will send the sword after them Until I have consumed them. ³⁸ I will set My throne in Elam, And will destroy from there the king and the princes,' says the LORD. ³⁹ But it shall come to pass in the latter days: I will bring back the captives of Elam,' says the LORD."

Headline: Iran Navy to deploy 24th fleet to Mediterranean Sea

Iran Navy Commander Rear Admiral Habibollah Sayyari says the Islamic Republic's 24th fleet of warships will be deployed to the Mediterranean Sea. "The Navy's 24th fleet of warships will patrol the north of the Indian Ocean, the Gulf of Aden, Bab-el-Mandeb, the Red Sea, Suez Canal and the Mediterranean Sea for three months and will even sail as far as southeastern Asian countries," Sayyari said on Wednesday. The Iranian commander added that the Navy's 23rd fleet of warships would return to the country next week. Referring to the Navy's recent drill, dubbed Velayat 91, Sayyari said the maneuver displayed Iran's naval capability and its ability to counter any threat against the interests of the Islamic Republic.

Headline: Iran-IAEA nuclear talks to go into second day

Senior U.N. nuclear inspectors will continue their talks with Iran for a second day on Thursday, hoping to reach a long-sought agreement to unblock an investigation into suspected weapons research in the Islamic state. It was not clear whether the extension of the meeting in Tehran meant that headway had been made towards nailing down a framework deal giving the U.N. nuclear watchdog access to sites, officials and documents for its long-stalled inquiry. The IAEA's immediate priority is to visit the Parchin military base southeast of Tehran, where it suspects explosives tests relevant for production of nuclear weapons may have taken place, perhaps a decade ago, accusations Tehran denies.

Headline: US drones join Algerian operation at gas field after huge explosion

Headline: Dozens of hostages said killed in Algeria, seven still being held

On January 11, a few hundred French troops and a handful of fighter jets and gunships launched a campaign against Islamist terrorists in Mali, a West African desert vastness larger than Texas and California combined. This former French colony appealed to Paris for aid to throw back a mixed al Qaeda-rebel advance on the capital, Bamako. But France, no more than the US, had learned from the Afghanistan War that Al Qaeda cannot be beaten by aerial warfare - certainly not when the jihadists are highly trained in special forces tactics and backed by highly mobile, well-armed local militias, armed with advanced anti-aircraft weapons and knowledgeable about conditions in the forbidding Sahara. Within 48 hours, this modest “crusader” intervention had united a host of pro-al Qaeda offshoots and allies, some of them castoffs from the army of Libya’s deposed Muammar Qaddafi.

Headline: Inspector General: Postal Service Will 'Cease to Exist' Without Bailout

Inspector general David Williams, described as the “chief postal watchdog,” said the U.S. Postal Service (USPS) will go out of business this year unless Congress bails it out. In an interview with the Guardian, Williams said the postal service lost nearly $16 billion the last fiscal year, nearly $41 billion over the last five years, and has reached its $15 billion credit limit. When asked if the USPS will need a bailout this year, Williams said: "Yes. The choices are that it would cease to exist or it would need a bailout." Williams, whose agency audits the postal service, says Congress may have to help the postal service with its pension payments, which he says have put the postal service “in very serious trouble.”

Headline: Top UBS Analyst Predicts Carnage For The US Dollar & Equities

On the heels of Germany looking to repatriate their gold, today King World News spoke with top UBS analyst Peter Lee about his rather frightening forecasts for the US dollar and equities. Interestingly, his call for the dollar to plunge comes right after Germany expressed that it wants its gold out of the Fed and back inside German vaults. If Lee is right in his outlook, this will have massive global ramifications. Lee also provided KWN with some incredible charts to back up his rather ominous predictions for both the dollar and equities. Here is what top UBS analyst Peter Lee had to say, along with powerful charts: "We are nearing a couple of inflection points coming up in the markets. There is a distinct possibility that all of this converges in the upcoming two-year window between 2013 and 2014. This will be greatly impacting equities, bonds, and currency markets. We are about to enter this convergence period, and we suspect in the second half of this year and into 2014 we will see a great deal of major movements in these financial markets. The charts below go back to the Great Depression when we had an 85% drop in the S&P.

Headline: Germany's economy shrinks most in 3 years as crisis hits eurozone powerhouse

The situation is significantly worse than the mood. But the eurozone crisis is far from over. It's wishful thinking to expect otherwise. The German economy was hit hard by the eurozone crisis in the final quarter of last year, shrinking more than at any point in nearly three years as traditionally strong exports and investment slowed, the Statistics Office said on Tuesday. Economists expect Germany to bounce back after forecasts for weak growth in the first quarter but Europe's largest economy will be less of a pillar of support for the rest of the currency bloc, where many of its peers are deeply in recession.

Headline: West Africa prepares for war

Headline: Western nations drawn into deepening conflicts in Africa

West Africa is bracing itself for war. Military chiefs of the West African ECOWAS bloc have concluded a plan for the swift deployment of 3,300 troops. Those troops will come from Nigeria, Niger, Ghana, Senegal, Togo, Benin, Chad and Burkina Faso. Nigeria will on Thursday send the first 190 of the 600 troops it has pledged. More than 500 troops from Niger are also expected to cross the border into Mali after they receive the mandatory parliamentary approval required for foreign deployment for Niger's forces. This comes as France gears up for what will probably be a long military campaign and launches a ground assault against rebels in the small garrison town of Diabaly, 400km from the capital Bamako. Rebels from the Movement for Oneness and Jihad took control of Diabaly on Tuesday amid intensive aerial bombardment by the French forces. Five days of aerial bombardment have done little to reverse the gains made by the rebels in the north.

Headline: Ebola virus spreading to Asia: fruit bats in Bangladesh test positive for ebola antibodies

EcoHealth Alliance, a nonprofit organization that focuses on local conservation and global health issues, released new research on Ebola virus in fruit bats in the peer reviewed journal, Emerging Infectious Diseases, a monthly publication by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). The study found Ebola virus antibodies circulating in ~4% of the 276 bats scientists screened in Bangladesh. These results suggest that Rousettus fruit bats are a reservoir for Ebola, or a new Ebola-like virus in South Asia. The study extends the range of this lethal disease further than previously suspected to now include mainland Asia.

Headline: Egyptian court sentences Christian family to 15 years for converting from Islam

The 15-year prison sentence given to a woman and her seven children by an Egyptian court for converting to Christianity is a sign of things to come, according to alarmed human rights advocates who say the nation’s Islamist government is bad news for Christians in the North African country. A criminal court in the central Egyptian city of Beni Suef meted out the shocking sentence last week, according to the Arabic-language Egyptian paper Al-Masry Al-Youm. Nadia Mohamed Ali, who was raised a Christian, converted to Islam when she married Mohamed Abdel-Wahhab Mustafa, a Muslim, 23 years ago. He later died, and his widow planned to convert her family back to Christianity in order to obtain an inheritance from her family. She sought the help of others in the registration office to process new identity cards between 2004 and 2006. When the conversion came to light under the new regime, Nadia, her children and even the clerks who processed the identity cards were all sentenced to prison.

An Iranian-born American pastor imprisoned in Iran is set to go on trial Monday, Jan. 21. Iranian Revolutionary Guard officers arrested Pastor Saeed Abedini, 32, in September, while he was in Iran to visit his family and work on a project for an orphanage. His trial has been assigned to a judge who has been accused of human rights violations in the past for his prolific use of the death penalty. Saeed became a U.S. citizen in 2010 when he married his American wife, Naghmeh Abedini. The Iranian government does not acknowledge his dual citizenship and the U.S. State Department has not taken any definitive action on his behalf. In a recent letter to his wife, Saeed said he is being beaten regularly and has been told he "will hang" for his faith in Jesus.

Seasonal rains have triggered massive flooding in Indonesia's capital, triggering the evacuation of at least 20,000 people and bringing misery to many more. Floods regularly hit parts of Jakarta in the rainy season, but Thursday's inundation following an intense rain storm appeared especially widespread. Authorities said four people had been killed by the waters, which washed into homes, offices, schools and roads across the city of 14 million people. Al Jazeera's Step Vaessen, reporting from Jakarta, said the entire city is currently flooded. "People cannot get to their offices. They are walking or attempting to use bikes to get to work," she said. "In all the years of flooding, and the city receives floods every year, it has never been this bad, and it is a lot more serious."

UNREST

Luke 21:9 and Matthew 24:7 speak of nation against nation and kingdom against kingdom in the end times. Revelation 6:3-4 speaks of the fiery red horse given power to make men slay one another and Revelation 6:8 speaks again of this red horse in conjunction with the pale horse of Death and Hades, as the one that has the power to kill by sword. I like to call this "The Arab Spring in Prophecy" because for us it is easy to identify- that's what the world calls it.

Luke 21:9: wars & commotions; the Greek word here is Akatastasia, meaning instability, a state of disorder, disturbance, confusion (revolutions)

Matthew 24:7: the Greek word for nation is Ethnos & refers to various ethnic groups fighting among themselves, where the next sentence in the verse refers to kingdoms (basileiva) fighting one another (not to be confused with an actual kingdom but rather the right or authority to rule over a kingdom) I have tried to separate it into areas that sweep EAST from the point of North America.

The Canadian government's failure to meet the demands of the First Nations has triggered more protests across the country, with some protesters disrupting Canada-US trade at a key bridge crossing. On Wednesday, hundreds of demonstrators, many carrying flags and signs calling on the federal government to listen to aboriginal concerns, blocked one of the two access roads to the Ambassador Bridge, which is the major trade crossing from southern Ontario to the United States. Several other protest rallies were also held or planned in cities nationwide, blocking rail and roadways, including the TransCanada Highway, as well as targeting oil sands mining in Western Canada.

Middle East- ONLY COUNTRIES NOT IN PROPHECY

Headline: Pakistani military accused of massacre as protesters tighten noose around parliament

Pakistan has been engulfed in violence as protests organized by a cleric demanding government resignations continue. Meanwhile villagers in the North of the country demand justice following a deadly assault on their settlement that left 15 dead. Several thousand people took to the streets of north-western Pakistan shouting anti-army slogans and displaying the bodies of 15 local villagers who they claim they were murdered in their homes by the military in an overnight raid. Around 3,000 protested outside the governor's house of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa province in Peshawar. They claim that men wearing military uniforms stormed homes and shot the villagers. The protesters called on the army to end its operations in the area. One sign read: "We are also Pakistanis. Don't kill us." The villagers were killed in a tribal region where the Pakistani military has been conducting a campaign against Islamic militants. The rally recalled a similar protest in the city of Quetta last week where the relatives refused to bury the victims of a bomb attack for four days until the prime minister met their demands and dissolved the local government.
