(Zech.12:3 & 9 - The Burdensome Stone)

Zechariah 12:3 "And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it."

Headline: 'Nothing can save Israel from destruction'

A senior member of Iran's parliament on Saturday vowed that no amount of offensive or defensive capabilities will save Israel from destruction at the hands of its Muslim neighbors. Speaking to Iranian media, MP Abbasali Mansouri Arani scoffed at efforts to bolster Israel's northern defenses with Iron Dome and American-made Patriot anti-missile batteries. "The US seeks, in every possible manner, to prevent the destruction of the cancerous tumor it has created in the region in order to fulfill its own ominous interests," said Arani, who serves on the Iranian parliament's National Security and Foreign Policy Committee. The lawmaker stated that the Muslim nations of the Middle East remain resolved to destroy the Jewish state, and will eventually succeed.

Headline: New Iran centrifuges could shorten path to atomic bomb: Netanyahu

Headline: Iran: Netanyahu's Nuke Claims a 'Laughing Matter'

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said on Monday that new centrifuges Iran was installing for its uranium enrichment program could cut by a third the time needed to create a nuclear bomb. As Iran and world powers prepare to resume talks aimed at easing a dispute that has raised fears of a new Middle East war, Tehran announced late last month it planned to install the new machines at its main enrichment plant. The move underlined Iran's defiance of international demands to scale back the uranium enrichment which Tehran says is for civilian purposes but which could also potentially be used to make material for atomic bombs.

Headline: Netanyahu stands by 2-state solution

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu on Monday reaffirmed his commitment to the two-state solution ahead of US President Barack Obama's visit in Israel. Addressing the Conference of Presidents of Major American Jewish Organizations in Jerusalem's Inbal Hotel, Netanyahu said he still stands by his 2009 Bar-Ilan speech where he backed the concept of two states for two peoples. "I believe that a framework to peace (with the Palestinians) is what I outlined in my speech in Bar-Ilan University – two states for two peoples: A demilitarized Palestinian state that recognizes the Jewish state." He nevertheless stressed that there should be no pre-conditions to negotiations and called for a resumption of talks. "To reach this solution means to negotiate in good faith. That means you don't place preconditions. For the past four years the Palestinians regrettably place preconditions, time after time. My hope is that they leave them aside and get to the negotiating table," he said.

U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry is fighting to send the Palestinian Authority nearly $700 million in aid, despite major budget cuts and a fierce debate over where existing money should go.

"The Secretary feels extremely strongly that it is time now to get this support to the Palestinian Authority," said State Department spokeswoman Victoria Nuland. Most of the funds – some $495.7 million – were already set aside for the PA in fiscal 2012, which ended on October 1. However, a request for an additional $200 million, appropriated for fiscal 2013, was sent to the Congress last week, Nuland said.

Headline: Clashes break out in Syrian refugee camp in Jordan

Headline: Six Jordanian 'jihadists' killed in Syria

Jordanian security forces have fired teargas to disperse Syrian refugees protesting poor living and health conditions at a camp in northern Jordan. The Jordanian police claimed that seven aid workers were injured when they were attacked by dozens of angry refugees with sticks and stones while distributing bread for breakfast in the Zaatari camp on Tuesday. The police further claimed that the clashes started after the Syrian refugees, who were frustrated because cold winds had swept away their tents and torrential rains had flooded muddy streets, tried to attack the storehouse of a charity center, which was distributing aid. Meanwhile, six Jordanian nationals have been killed while fighting alongside jihadist forces in Syria, Islamist sources say, as a growing number of Jordanians take up arms to wage a “holy war” against the Damascus regime.

Headline: Clashes Break Out Outside Presidential Palace in Cairo

Headline: Egypt: Hundreds of police stage rare protests

Security forces sprayed protesters with water hoses and tear gas outside the presidential palace as Egyptians marked the second anniversary of the fall of autocrat Hosni Mubarak with angry demonstrations against his elected successor. The forces were trying to disperse a small crowd of protesters on Monday evening, after some of them attempted to cross a barbed wire barrier meant to block them from the palace gate. Some protesters chanted: "The people want to bring down the regime." Others threw stones. Graffiti scribbled on the palace walls read: "Erhal" or "Leave," the chant that echoed through Cairo's central Tahrir Square during the 18-day uprising that ended with Mubarak stepping down on Feb. 11, 2011. Earlier, masked men briefly blocked trains at a central Cairo subway station and a dozen other protesters blocked traffic with burning tires on a main overpass in Cairo. Hundreds rallied outside the office of the country's chief prosecutor, demanding justice and retribution for protesters killed in clashes with security forces after Islamist President Mohammed Morsi took office last summer.

Jeremiah 49:24-27

New King James Version (NKJV)

- 24 Damascus has grown feeble;
She turns to flee,
And fear has seized her.
Anguish and sorrows have taken her like a woman in labor.
- 25 Why is the city of praise not deserted, the city of My joy?
- 26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets,
And all the men of war shall be cut off in that day," says the LORD of hosts.
- 27 "I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus,
And it shall consume the palaces of Ben-Hadad."<sup>[a]</sup>

The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap.

U.N. Secretary General Ban Ki-moon urged the government of Syrian President Bashar al-Assad to accept an opposition offer of peace talks, hours after Assad himself vowed to fight on.

Ban referred to an offer for talks by National Coalition leader Ahmed Moaz al-Khatib as “an opportunity we should not miss -- a chance to switch from a devastating military logic to a promising political approach.” “This was a courageous offer by Mr. al-Khatib,” he said in a speech Monday at the Council on Foreign Relations, urging both the Syrian government and the Security Council to “respond positively.” Earlier Monday, however, Assad said he would not bow to mounting pressure and “plots,” state news agency SANA reported. “Syria will remain the beating heart of the Arab world and will not give up its principles despite the intensifying pressure and diversifying plots not only targeting Syria, but all Arabs,” Assad said.

Headline: Syria crisis: Rebels 'seize northern air base'

Syrian opposition fighters are launching a major operation to take control of the strategic eastern city of Deir al-Zor after pushing out government forces from oil-producing areas around it, a rebel commander told Reuters. If they seize the city, the rebels will control a whole province for the first time in the 22-month-old Syrian uprising against President Bashar al-Assad.

Ibrahim Abu Baker, leader of the powerful Al-Qadisiyah Brigade, said his rebel force, along with Islamists from Jabhat al-Nusra and Arab fighters, had surrounded Deir al-Zor on four sides in the build-up to the operation. “The countryside is liberated, what is left of the province (of Deir al-Zor) is the city itself,” he told Reuters from the province via Skype. “All brigades are taking part in this... We are in charge of the eastern side of the city.” Meanwhile, Syrian rebels have captured a military air base near the northern city of Aleppo, activists say. Fighters took control of al-Jarrah base after days of clashes there with security forces, reports said. The reported capture comes a day after rebels in the north-east overran Syria's biggest hydro-electric dam, delivering a strategic blow to the government.

Headline: Turkish jets bomb PKK bases in northern Iraq

Turkish fighter jets bombed targets of the outlawed Kurdish Workers' Party (PKK) in northern Iraq on Tuesday, private Dogan news agency reported. Eight Turkish F-16 jets took off from Diyarbakir airbase in southeastern Turkey at around 11:00 a.m. local time (0800 GMT), and struck the PKK targets in Qandil, Zap and Basyan regions in Iraq over initial intelligence gathered by unarmed aerial observation flights. Turkish military determined that PKK members had tried to flee the regions, which were once bombed by Turkish jets. The air operation took two hours, during which several hideouts, training bases and anti-aircraft weapons were destroyed, the report said. The Turkish jets have safely returned to their bases after completing the mission, according to the report.

The Irish prophet Saint Malachy has predicted that the next Pope after Benedict will be the last and he will be "Peter the Roman, who will nourish the sheep in many tribulations; when they are finished, the city of seven hills will be destroyed, and the dreadful judge will judge his people. The end."

The prophecies of the Irish saint Malachy, the 12th century bishop of Armagh have thrilled and dismayed readers for centuries. He has stated there will be only one more pope after Benedict, and during his reign comes the end of the world. The prediction in full is "In the final persecution of the Holy Roman Church there will reign Peter the Roman, who will feed his flock amid many tribulations, after which the seven-hilled city will be destroyed and the dreadful Judge will judge the people. The End." Experts say it could refer to an Italian pope who would take Peter's name.

Headline: Gas prices hit a historic high: What's driving them up?

A combination of high crude prices, refinery shutdowns, and early speculation has sent gas prices soaring to seasonal highs earlier than usual this year, with no signs of prices at the pump falling until spring, according to recent estimates. Gas prices have climbed every day for the past 25 days, reaching a national average of $3.59 per gallon Monday, the most expensive national average ever for Feb. 11, according to AAA. During just the past two weeks, average prices have climbed almost 25 cents, the biggest jump in gas prices in almost a year. "This is a very early rise," says Tom Kloza, chief oil analyst at the Oil Price Information Service. "January has tended to be a quiet month through the years, but the rally really began in earnest around Jan. 15."

Here's a stat you rarely (if ever) hear about: The three-month delayed figure regarding food stamp and disability enrollment. Why do you suppose this number goes largely unreported? Could it have anything to do with the fact that it may reflect poorly on Washington? Consider the following (via Zero Hedge): Since [President Obama's] inauguration, the US has generated just 841,000 jobs through November 2012, a number [that] is more than dwarfed by the 17.3 million new [food stamps] and disability recipients added to the rolls in the past 4 years. A new paper published earlier this week in the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's Emerging Infectious Diseases journal warns that the first cases of "totally drug-resistant" tuberculosis have been found in South Africa and that the disease is "virtually untreatable." Like many bacterial diseases, tuberculosis has been evolving to fend off many effective antibiotics, making it more difficult to treat. But even treatable forms of the disease are particularly tricky to cure; drug sensitive strains must be treated with a six-month course of antibiotics. Tougher cases require long-term hospitalization and a regimen of harsh drugs that can last years.

China's Health Ministry said Sunday two human cases of H5N1 bird flu in the southwestern city of Guiyang. The patients were identified as a 21-year-old woman and a 31-year-old man, who developed symptoms Feb. 2 and Feb 3, respectively. "They are in critical condition and medical workers are carrying out emergency treatment," the ministry said in a statement. "No epidemiological connections have been found between the two cases." The ministry said an investigation found evidence the two had contact with fowl before they fell ill. The human-infected highly pathogenic avian influenza is an acute respiratory infectious disease that frequently results in death. The main symptoms are high fever and pneumonia.

"Behold, the days are coming," says the Lord GOD, "That I will send a famine on the land, Not a famine of bread, Nor a thirst for water, But of hearing the words of the LORD." (Amos)

"For this reason God gave them up to vile passions. For even their women exchanged the natural use for what is against nature. Likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust for one another, men with men committing what is shameful and receiving in themselves the penalty of their error which was due"(Romans)

Headline: Pentagon extends benefits to same-sex couples

The Pentagon has officially extended some military benefits to same-sex partners, but said provisions such as medical coverage would not be offered to gay troops' spouses due to legal barriers. US Defence Secretary Leon Panetta, who is due to retire this month, said the decision stemmed from the repeal 17 months ago of a ban on openly gay recruits serving in the military. "It is a matter of fundamental equity that we provide similar benefits to all of those men and women in uniform who serve their country," Panetta said in a statement. "Today, I am pleased to announce that after a thorough and deliberate review, the department will extend additional benefits to same-sex partners of service members." The move, which defence officials had signaled last week, will provide same-sex partners with military identity cards, hospital visitation rights, access to youth and education programmes and financial compensation in the event their military spouse dies, a Pentagon memo said. Panetta acknowledged that federal law, which defines marriage as between a man and a woman, remained an obstacle to extending the full array of military benefits.

Headline: French Assembly passes gay marriage, adoption bill

France's lower house of parliament has approved a sweeping bill to legalize gay marriage and allow same-sex couples to adopt children. President Francois Hollande's Socialists have pushed the measure through the National Assembly and put France on track to join about a dozen, mostly European nations that grant marriage and adoption rights to homosexuals. The measure, approved in a 329-to-229 vote Tuesday, comes despite an array of demonstrations in recent weeks by opponents of the "marriage for all" bill. Polls show most French support legalizing gay marriage, though that backing softens when children come into play.

Headline: Two earthquakes strike Chinese province

Two earthquakes, with magnitudes of 5.1 and 4.2, struck China's Qinghai province Tuesday, officials said. The China Earthquake Networks Center said the 5.1-magnitude quake jolted the west part of northwestern province in the Haixi Mongolian and Tibetan Autonomous Prefecture, China's state-run news agency, Xinhua, reported. Li Yuejin, deputy director of the Qinghai Provincial Seismological Bureau, said the earthquake occurred in a sparsely populated region of the province. No deaths were reported, Xinhua said.

The Arab Spring in Prophecy

(Perilous Times Luke 21:9 & Nation against Nation, Kingdom against Kingdom Matt.24:7)

(Revelation 6:3-4 Revelation 6:8)

“For nation shall rise against nation,
and kingdom against kingdom.
There will be earthquakes in various places, and there will be famines and sedition; these are the beginning of the labor pains.”

Mark 13:8

Luke 21:9 and Matthew 24:7 speak of nation against nation and kingdom against kingdom in the end times. Revelation 6:3-4 speaks of the fiery red horse given power to make men slay one another and Revelation 6:8 speaks again of this red horse in conjunction with the pale horse of Death and Hades, as the one that has the power to kill by sword. I like to call this “The Arab Spring in Prophecy” because for us it is easy to identify- that’s what the world calls it.

Luke 21:9: wars & commotions; the Greek word here is Akatastasia, meaning instability, a state of disorder, disturbance, confusion (revolutions)

Matthew 24:7: the Greek word for nation is Ethnos & refers to various ethnic groups fighting among themselves, where the next sentence in the verse refers to kingdoms (basileiva) fighting one another (not to be confused with an actual kingdom but rather the right or authority to rule over a kingdom) I have tried to separate it into areas that sweep EAST from the point of North America.

Headline: 'Zionist occupation of Palestine': Al Qaeda dubs French intervention in Mali

Headline: Mali reluctant to let in U.N. peacekeepers

The Yemen-based offshoot of Al Qaeda urged Muslims to sacrifice themselves and their money to help fend off what it called the "Crusader war" in Mali, according to a statement posted online on Tuesday. France intervened in Mali last month to combat Islamist forces who seized control of the north of the country that followed a military coup in March 2012. Their surprise advance pushed Mali to the forefront of U.S. and European security concerns, with fears the Islamists would turn the country into a base for international attacks. Al Qaeda in the Arabian Peninsula (AQAP) compared the French intervention to what it called the "Zionist occupation of Palestine". The group said supporting Muslims in Mali was "a duty for every able Muslim, to offer himself or his money, each according to his ability."

Headline: Bahraini opposition calls for protests to mark uprising anniversary

Bahraini opposition groups have called for protest rallies to mark the second anniversary of the popular uprising against the rule of Al Khalifa dynasty. Bahrain's main opposition bloc al-Wefaq and the February 14 Revolution Youth Coalition have called for separate protests this week. The coalition has urged Bahrainis to go on strike and take to the streets on Thursday and march to the site of the iconic Pearl Square, the former epicenter of Bahrain's revolution, on Friday. This comes while al-Wefaq has called for a major rally on Friday outside the capital, Manama. Bahrainis have been holding protest rallies across the country for more than a week ahead of the anniversary.

Headline: Yemenis commemorate second anniversary of revolution

Tens of thousands of Yemenis have thronged in the capital, Sana'a, to commemorate the second anniversary of their revolution, Press TV reports. The marchers said their revolution still has a lot to achieve and that they will continue demonstrations until all of their demands are met. Holding flags and banners, the Yemeni demonstrators called on the country's President Abd-Rabbuh Mansour Hadi to make Yemen a true independent nation, putting an end to the US interventions and drone attacks against Yemeni nationals. This is while the Yemeni government has not yet officially condemned the foreign military operations in the country despite the overwhelming civil and tribal anti-US sentiments against the drone operations, particularly in recent months. As the protests continue in Yemen, the country's president announced recently that a national dialogue will kick off on March 18 after being delayed numerous times due to disputes among the country's political parties.

Headline: Farmers block highways across Greece

Greece's farmers have blocked highways across the country after launching an anti-austerity campaign as the government backs its spending cuts. The angry farmers blocked highways mostly in central and northern Greece consisting of the country's main road artery on Monday at 2:00 p.m. local time (1200 GMT) for an hour, directly increasing journey lengths on the first day of the week. The protest comes in retaliation to six months of unpaid wages, government austerity and a new draft tax law that increases tax on the farmers' incomes and fuel for farm vehicles.

Headline: India clashes leave 11 dead

Clashes between police forces and tribal groups opposed to ongoing local elections in northeastern India leave at least 11 people dead. Police said that the fighting broke out in Goalpara district, around 120 km (75 miles) from the city of Guwahati in the state of Assam, on Tuesday. "The situation is very critical and so far we have reports that 11 people are dead and about six are injured," said senior police official Bhupen Bora. Bora said police opened fire on the members of two pro-autonomy tribes after the "started torching villages and attacked government officials."
