Headline: UN cuts Golan patrols as Syria war dangers mount

Croatia's parliament has approved the withdrawal of some 100 peacekeeping troops from the Golan Heights amid fears they could be targeted by Syrian government troops fighting the rebels.

Croatian Defense Minister Ante Kotromanovic said Wednesday the pullout will start "very soon" but refused to specify the date for security reasons. The withdrawal, which had been proposed by the country's president, follows reports claiming that Syrian rebels trying to topple Bashar Assad have been armed with Croatian weapons — including machine guns, rifles and anti-tank grenades — in an operation approved by the United States and sponsored by some Arab countries. Croatian officials have denied the reports and said they have jeopardized the safety of Croatian soldiers serving in the U.N. Disengagement Force on the Syria-Israel border.

"Having two states for two nations is the most basic interest of the Jewish people," the Knesset member told the 13th annual Herzliya Conference, adding that this solution is the "only way we can preserve the existence of a democratic Jewish state." "There are only two options between the Mediterranean Sea and the Jordan (River) - two separate states or one state ... just as the Palestinians need to know that there are Jews between the Jordan and the Mediterranean Sea, we need to know that there are Palestinians in the same place," Livni said at the opening of the panel on 'Is the Israeli-Palestinian impasse breakable?'

Headline: Fury over 'Blatant UN Interference' in Coalition Talks

MK Uri Ariel and his supporters expressed outrage Wednesday over United Nations envoy Robert Serry's criticism of Ariel's reported future appointment as Housing Minister. Serry was quoted in Ma'ariv as publicly telling Israeli activists that Ariel's appointment would mean new construction in Judea and Samaria, which would lead to international condemnation and would hurt Israel's standing in the international community. "This is an incredibly arrogant statement, and constitutes blatant interference in Israel's sovereignty," MK Ariel said in response. Israel "is in the midst of the delicate process of putting together a government," he noted — a process Serry's remarks were apparently designed to upset. Ariel added, "Serry's statements are not surprising in light of the U.N.'s unbalanced, anti-Israel stance."

Running through the schoolyard, the youngster points his AK-47 assault rifle at a target as the other students quickly get onto the ground. In the Gaza Strip, where conflict with Israel is always a possibility, the military-style exercise in a high school is part of a program sanctioned by the Hamas Islamist government to teach students how to use weapons. "We are in an occupied country and always need to teach our children how to protect the nation using all means available to us," said Lieutenant Mohammed al-Seiqali, head of weapons training in the school in Khan Younis in the southern Gaza Strip.

Headline: Islamist party denounces Israel's move to change definition of Palestinian refugees

The Islamic Action Front (IAF) on Wednesday called on the government to take a "decisive" stance against Israeli attempts to change the legal status of Palestinian refugees through UN organisations. In a statement made on Wednesday, the IAF said that Israel is trying to change the status of the Palestinians forced to leave Palestine in 1948 and 1967 and their descendents. Murad Adaileh, head of the party's Palestinian section, warned against Israel's efforts to "manipulate" UNRWA's classification of Palestinian refugees. Adaileh urged the Arab League and other international and regional organisations to oppose what he described as "a Zionist conspiracy against the right of return". The comments from the IAF come in light of a meeting last week in New York between Israel Ambassador to the UN Ron Prosor and other Zionist leaders who argued against the transfer of refugee status from those directly affected by the Arab-Israeli conflict in 1948 and 1967 to their descendents, according to international reports.

Lithuanian Foreign Minister Linas Linkevicius said Wednesday that his country has upgraded Palestine's diplomatic office in Vilnius to mission, according to a Lithuanian foreign ministry statement. It said the decision came in letter Linkevicius sent to the Palestinian non-resident ambassador to Lithuania, Nabil Wazir. Linkevicius said that upgrading the office status shows the importance of developing Lithuanian-Palestinian relations. He also reiterated his country's condemnation of Israeli settlements in the Palestinian territories.

Jeremiah 49:24-27

New King James Version (NKJV)

- 24 Damascus has grown feeble;
She turns to flee,
And fear has seized her.
Anguish and sorrows have taken her like a woman in labor.
- 25 Why is the city of praise not deserted, the city of My joy?
- 26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets,
And all the men of war shall be cut off in that day," says the LORD of hosts.
- 27 "I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus,
And it shall consume the palaces of Ben-Hadad."<sup>[a]</sup>

The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap.

Headline: Assad soldier admits Hezbollah, Iran fighting: video

Iran and its Lebanese ally, Hezbollah, are fighting with forces loyal to President Bashar al-Assad in Syria, a soldier allegedly belonging to the Syrian Republican Guard said in a video posted online Monday. Ali Imad Takla, who – according to the amateur video – was captured by the rebel Free Syrian Army told the opposition his brigade has been fighting in Daraya under the orders of General Yousef al-Masry using missiles, planes as well as canons. He added there are regime soldiers based at Souq al-Hadeed. The FSA has accused Hezbollah members for attacking Syrian villages primarily in the region near the Lebanese border. Hezbollah chief Hassan Nasrallah has admitted some party members had fought in Syria but on their own accord and not under his orders.

Headline: Member of EU Syria delegation killed in Damascus suburb

A member of the European Union's delegation in Syria has been killed in a rocket attack in a Damascus suburb. Ahmad Shihadeh, an EU policy officer, was killed in Darayya, to the south-west of the capital, EU foreign policy chief Catherine Ashton said. He lived in the area and was killed while providing humanitarian help to the community, she said in a statement. News of his death came as charities and the United Nations again warned of the growing human cost of the conflict.

The UN's commission for refugees called on foreign governments to release the funds needed to cope with the massive number of Syrian refugees, while UK charity Save the Children has warned of the increasing role of children in the two-year uprising.

"We call on the heroic Syrian people to bring back to life all aspects of the uprising... inspired by the spirit of real national unity, speaking in one voice," a statement added. ### Headline: Mortar shells fired on Damascus, casualties reported

Heavy fighting erupted in an area between Damascus and the Israeli-occupied Golan Heights on Wednesday in what could be a new battlefield between Syrian troops and rebels, opposition sources said. Rebel fighters attacked an army barracks manned by elite Republican Guards and the Fourth Mechanised Division, headed by President Bashar al-Assad's brother Maher, in Khan Sheih, 6 km (4 miles) from the outskirts of Damascus, civilian activists and an opposition military source said. Clashes intensified three days after Sunni Muslim rebels overran a missile squadron in the area, killing 30 soldiers, mostly from Assad's minority Alawite sect, the sources said. The region also hosts a Palestinian refugee camp.

Headline: Syria anti-regime protesters demonstrate against Al-Nusra

Al Qaeda's Syrian wing, Jabhat al-Nusra, led a Syrian rebel operation Wednesday, March 13, to occupy Golan and cleanse it of every last Syrian troop loyal to Bashar Assad. The Islamists had two more objectives:

1. To be in position for cross-border attacks on Israel and Jordan – possibly in the course of US President Barack Obama's March 20-22 visits to those countries.
2. To use the "liberated" Syrian Golan as launching pads for a war of attrition against Israel and Jordan - like Taliban's campaign against NATO forces in Afghanistan and Pakistan. Their deadline for achieving this objective is March 15.

Jabhat al-Nusra kicked off its Golan operation Wednesday, debkafile's military sources report, by murdering Gen. Nour e-Din Habib, commander of the Syrian Army's 90th Brigade, parts of which remain on the Golan. He was struck down from a well-planned ambush against his convoy. Also killed in the attack was Col. Radouan Rifai, the brigade's senior liaison officer with the Syrian 3rd Extended Division.

Headline: U.N. peacekeeper shot and wounded in South Sudan

A United Nations peacekeeper has been shot and wounded by unknown gunmen in South Sudan, the international organization said on Wednesday, in the country's first such incident. The shooting took place on Tuesday while the peacekeeper was on patrol in the remote Jonglei state in the east of the country, which broke away from Sudan in mid-2011. "UNMISS (the U.N. mission in South Sudan) confirms that a U.N. peacekeeper was wounded yesterday when an unidentified armed group fired on an UNMISS patrol," said Kouider Zerrouk, a spokesman for the mission. Jonglei, a remote and undeveloped area the size of England, has been torn apart by inter-ethnic massacres triggered by cattle raids and abductions in recent years. More than 1,600 people have been killed in violence in the state since independence, according to the United Nations.

Headline: UK on track for triple dip - NIESR

Britain is on track for a triple dip recession, one of the nation's leading forecasters has signalled, as new figures on the UK's manufacturing industry dealt a blow to recovery hopes and sent sterling crashing to a fresh two-and-a-half year low. The economy shrank by 0.1pc in the three months to February, the National Institute of Economic and Social Research (NIESR) estimated, which followed a 0.3pc decline in the final quarter of last year. If the economy continues to contract for the three months to the end of March, the UK will officially be in its third recession since the financial crisis of 2008.

Headline: WHO confirms 15th case of deadly new virus in Saudi Arabia

A SARS-like virus that has struck in Britain and the Middle East has claimed a new victim in Saudi Arabia, bringing the global toll from the mystery illness to nine, the World Health Organisation said. The UN agency said on Tuesday that the Saudi health ministry informed it that a 39-year-old man, who developed symptoms on February 24 and was hospitalised four days later, died on March 2. "Preliminary investigation indicated that the patient had no contact with previously reported cases," the WHO said in a statement. "Other potential exposures are under investigation." Novel coronavirus, or nCoV, was first detected in the middle of last year. Including the latest victim, a total of 15 cases have now been reported. The nine fatalities have been clustered in Saudi Arabia, Jordan and Britain. In the latter country, it affected a family, one of the members of which had visited the Middle East and Pakistan. On Tuesday the WHO reiterated calls on its member states to remain vigilant for cases of severe acute respiratory infections and to carefully review any unusual patterns.

Headline: Deer die off puzzles wildlife officials

California Department of Fish and Wildlife officials are still trying to determine why 13 deer in the Camp Nelson area have shown up dead in the past three months. Wildlife Biologist Evan King said so far officials have ruled out poisoning as the cause. "We have experienced everything from young bucks to young fawns, with young fawns the most," he said, adding that the fawns are "generally more susceptible" to illnesses. It has been two weeks since the last dead deer was found. However, coming up with a cause has been difficult. Long said all but one carcass was intact — it appear animals had gotten to one deer, and that with it being winter they were able to get good samples to test. He said while the number is unusual, it is not so many as to cause great alarm. "It's significant enough that we are submitting samples to the lab," he said, adding, "Rumors that people are poisoning deer are not true."

Queen Elizabeth II has signed a charter calling for an end to discrimination across the Commonwealth to keep the group of nations "fit and agile". The document - the Charter of the Commonwealth - was signed by the 86-year-old monarch at a reception hosted by the Commonwealth Secretary-General at Marlborough House in London. Gay rights group Stonewall said it was the "first time that the Queen has publicly acknowledged the importance of the six per cent of her subjects who are gay". The 16-point charter was adopted by all nations in the group in December. It also aims to protect democracy, the rule of law, international security and free speech. ### Headline: Colorado lawmakers approve bill for same-sex civil unions

Colorado lawmakers approved a bill on Tuesday to legalize same-sex civil unions, and the state's Democratic governor, who has already indicated his support, was expected to sign the measure into law. The Colorado House Democrats said the measure would provide benefits, protections and responsibilities to gay and lesbian couples similar to those granted heterosexual pairs. The measure, which passed by a 39-26 vote in the state House of Representatives, had already been approved by the state Senate. "This bill is about three simple things, it's about love, it's about family and it's about equality under the law," Colorado House Speaker Mark Ferrandino, an openly gay Democrat and a sponsor of the bill, told fellow lawmakers. The measure, once it is signed into law, would make Colorado the 18th state to approve either civil unions or gay marriage, according to the Colorado House Democrats.

Headline: Meteor explodes in skies over South Africa

Residents across Cape Town claimed to have sighted a meteorite on Tuesday after what appears to have been a fireball “exploded” in the sky. It is said to have been sighted just after noon. Nicola Loaring, an outreach astronomer at the South African Astronomical Observatory, said they had received about four or five reports. The green and blue light with a white tail that was reported to them appeared to be that of “a fireball, which is a bright meteor.” Fireballs were caused by dust formed in space that enter Earth’s atmosphere. “There are two meteor showers in March with one peaking on March 13 and this could be related to that. Loaring said another meteor shower would start later this month and peak in April.” “Meteor showers are best viewed in the morning. Up to eight an hour can be seen,” Loaring said. People shouldn’t be alarmed since these were “common and predictable”. Company director John Houston captured part of the event on camera while he was driving on the N1 from Stellenbosch. There was a “huge” explosion that left a white cloud close to the Durbanville hills, he said.

The Arab Spring in Prophecy

(Perilous Times Luke 21:9 & Nation against Nation, Kingdom against Kingdom Matt.24:7)
(Revelation 6:3-4 Revelation 6:8)

“For nation shall rise against nation,
and kingdom against kingdom.
There will be earthquakes in various places, and there will be famines and sedition; these are the beginning of the labor pains.”

Mark 13:8

UNREST

Luke 21:9 and Matthew 24:7 speak of nation against nation and kingdom against kingdom in the end times. Revelation 6:3-4 speaks of the fiery red horse given power to make men slay one another and Revelation 6:8 speaks again of this red horse in conjunction with the pale horse of Death and Hades, as the one that has the power to kill by sword. I like to call this “The Arab Spring in Prophecy” because for us it is easy to identify- that’s what the world calls it.

Luke 21:9: wars & commotions; the Greek word here is Akatastasia, meaning instability, a state of disorder, disturbance, confusion (revolutions)

Matthew 24:7: the Greek word for nation is Ethnos & refers to various ethnic groups fighting among themselves, where the next sentence in the verse refers to kingdoms (basileiva) fighting one another (not to be confused with an actual kingdom but rather the right or authority to rule over a kingdom) I have tried to separate it into areas that sweep EAST from the point of North America.

Headline: Bahrainis held demo against Al Khalifa, Al Saud regimes

People have taken to streets in eastern Bahrain to protest against the ruling Al Khalifa and Al Saud regimes. The demonstration was held in the island of Sitra east of capital Manama on Wednesday with Bahrainis shouting slogans against the two regimes. Protesters burned effigies of Bahraini King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa and Saudi King Abdullah bin Abdulaziz Al Saud. Earlier in the day, Bahrain’s public prosecutor said six people were arrested over the past couple of days for allegedly insulting the Bahraini king on Twitter. The latest detentions came two days after a court acquitted rights activist Yousef al-Muhafedha of spreading false news on Twitter. On Tuesday, protesters held a demonstration in the village of Sanabis, west of the capital.

At least two civilians have been killed in fresh clashes between Yemeni police and separatists in the troubled southern city of Aden. On Wednesday, security forces reportedly opened fire on Southern Movement activists in Aden's Mansura district, which is a stronghold of Yemen's pro-independence movement. A security official said police and separatists exchanged fire in the Mansura district, where protesting pro-secession activists had blocked roads with rocks and burning tires. Medical sources said six people were also injured in the clashes.
