(Zech.12:3 & 9 - The Burdensome Stone)

Headline: Despite Israeli warning to Hamas, 2 rockets fired from Gaza

Two rockets were fired from the Gaza Strip hours before Ariel Sharon's funeral on Monday, but did not appear to have landed in Israel, according to the Israel Defense Forces. The IDF said the rocket fire caused no injuries or damage, and several Israeli media reports said the rockets landed at sea. An IDF spokeswoman said there had been no launches across the border. According to media reports, the blasts appeared to have resulted from Palestinian terrorists testing their weapons. Israeli police spokesman Micky Rosenfeld said that increased police forces had been deployed for Sharon's funeral. Ahead of the funeral, Israel warned the Gaza Strip's Hamas rulers not to allow rocket fire during the ceremony, which was being attended by dozens of foreign dignitaries and senior foreign government officials, including U.S. Vice President Joe Biden. Meanwhile, The Israel Defense Forces launched an aerial attack on central and south Gaza Strip on Monday evening, in retaliation for two rockets fired at southern Israel during former Prime Minister Ariel Sharon's funeral. The IDF said that Israeli aircraft targeted a military compound in central Gaza and a terrorist infrastructure in the southern part of the territory. The military identified precise hits, the IDF said, and all Israeli aircraft returned safely to base.

Headline: Hamas: 'Israel Has Eight Years Left'

Israel will be gone in eight years, according to one Hamas official. Fathi Hamad, Hamas's Interior Minister, claimed in a speech honoring the anniversary of Operation Cast Lead that "Palestine" would replace the Jewish State by 2022. Hamad noted in his speech that the Palestinian Arabs, according to Islamic prophecies, will enter the Al Aqsa Mosque "in jubilation and victory like they entered it the first time". He said that Israel has failed in previous wars waged against the Palestinians, while the Palestinians are progressing nationally towards the stage where they are capable of conquering Jerusalem. After the "liberation" of Al-Aqsa Mosque, said Hamad, the "Hittin" system will prevail. That statement refers to he means by which Saladin conquered the Land of Israel against the Crusaders, in particular during the Battle of Hittin/Hattin; namely, by slaughtering or enslaving the non-Muslim forces arrayed against him. "We'll destroy the enemy," Hamad assured his audience, noting that achieving that goal would take "eight years." Hamad also claimed that the Palestinians are at the stage of readiness for "jihad and martyrdom in the way of Allah".

Headline: 50 Palestinians hurt in West Bank clashes over UN strike

At least 50 people were hurt on Sunday in a clash between Palestinian police and residents of a refugee camp protesting against a strike in a UN aid agency that has paralyzed services, police and an ambulance service said. The demonstration, in Jalazoun camp in the West Bank, was the most violent in a series of protests over the past week stemming from a more than month-old strike for higher pay by local employees of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA). UNRWA, which employs more than 5,000 Palestinians in 19 camps for some 730,000 West Bank refugees, has been forced to shut schools, clinics and suspend trash collection at the camps since the strike began. "We have nothing to do with the strike and we want to make our voice heard," said Mohammed Najjar, a Jalazoun resident. "The situation in the camps cannot be tolerated: no schools, no clinics and trash is piled everywhere." Adnan Al-Dmairi, spokesman of the Palestinian security forces in the West Bank, said authorities sympathized with refugee camp residents hit by the strike but would not tolerate disorder. A police spokesman said at least 40 policemen were hurt by rocks thrown by protesters, who also blocked roads and burned tires. Police responded by hurling stones at the crowd and firing tear gas and live ammunition into the air, injuring more than 10 people, an ambulance service said. Aid agencies are struggling to cope with a deepening refugee crises related to the civil war in Syria at the same time the Palestinian economy is faltering.

Prophecy Sign: 1 Thessalonians 5:3,4: "For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape. But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief."

Headline: Netanyahu Opposes Framework Dividing Jerusalem (story from Friday)

Headline: Abbas says he won't make concessions on Jerusalem

Prime Minister Binyamin Netanyahu announced to senior officials in his government that he won't agree to any division of Jerusalem in framework agreements. Sources previously revealed that US Secretary of State John Kerry's proposals would divide the capital under international management. Netanyahu has claimed he won't sign any document which in any way allows the establishment of a Palestinian Authority (PA) capital in Jerusalem, no matter the price to peace talks, according to Haaretz reports Friday morning. Meanwhile, one day later, Palestinian President Mahmoud Abbas sent a defiant message to Israel's leadership and U.S. mediators Saturday, telling cheering supporters that the Palestinians "won't kneel" and won't drop demands for a capital in east Jerusalem. Abbas adopted tough positions in the wide-ranging speech, saying that "there will be no peace" without a Palestinian capital in east Jerusalem and that he would not recognize Israel as a Jewish state.

Headline: Kerry visit delayed, Netanyahu to meet with Biden

Headline: John Kerry cancels trip to Israel at last minute

U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry -- who until recently dictated Israeli headlines pursuing the peace process -- was scheduled to arrive in Israel on Tuesday, but never came, against expectations. Meanwhile, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu was expected to meet with U.S. Vice President Joe Biden, who arrived in Israel on Tuesday to attend the memorial service for former Prime Minister Ariel Sharon, who died on Saturday. The two were expected to discuss the peace process and recent developments surrounding Iran's nuclear program. Biden's meeting with Netanyahu will be a chance for the vice president to try to further Middle East peace efforts and ease Israeli concerns about nuclear talks with Iran, according to leading U.S. lawmakers flying with him to Tel Aviv on Sunday. Political sources said Kerry was expected to arrive in Israel to push the peace process toward a so-called framework arrangement, which would settle certain core issues while allow negotiations to continue for one year past the April deadline. The Prime Minister's Office and the U.S. Embassy in Israel have refused to discuss Kerry's visit -- which the secretary of state never announced -- what may have spurred the postponement, or when he may be planning to come back.

Headline: Arab ministers back Abbas in rejecting 'Jewish' Israel

Arab foreign ministers notified US Secretary of State John Kerry on Sunday that they will not accept Israel as a Jewish state nor compromise on Palestinian sovereignty in Jerusalem, backing positions voiced by Palestinian Authority President Mahmoud Abbas. Palestinian Authority Foreign Minister Riyad Al-Malki told the official daily Al-Ayyam on Monday that nine Arab foreign ministers, comprising the followup committee for the Arab Peace Initiative, had agreed during a meeting in Paris Saturday to present to Kerry a unified Arab position on core Palestinian demands. The meeting between Kerry and the foreign ministers took place on Sunday evening at the residence of the American ambassador in Paris, and is the fifth meeting between Kerry and the Arab follow-up committee, Al-Ayyam reported. "A clear and unified Arab and Palestinian position was presented [to Kerry] rejecting the recognition of Israel as a Jewish state," Malki told the daily. "The American secretary heard this position from me and from other Arab foreign ministers, who also consider East Jerusalem to be the capital of the Palestinian state."

Headline: Ashton to Israel: Stop settlement building now

After Israel announced 1,400 new homes last week, EU foreign policy chief says construction is illegal, threatens peace talks. European Union foreign policy chief Catherine Ashton called on Israel Sunday to halt all construction in the West Bank immediately, and said the building of settlements was detrimental to the ongoing peace talks between Israel and the Palestinians. "I was deeply concerned to hear the latest announcement by the Israeli authorities to advance settlement plans once more in the West Bank including East Jerusalem," Ashton said in a statement. "The settlements are illegal under international law, constitute an obstacle to peace and threaten to make the two-state solution impossible," she added. The foreign policy chief stressed that the EU was willing to assist Israel and the Palestinians in achieving a peace accord, but warned that it would be unable to do so if both sides did not uphold their obligations toward advancing such a deal.

ISAIAH 19: 1-4

1: The burden of Egypt. Behold, the LORD rideth upon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt: and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it.

2: And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour; city against city, and kingdom against kingdom. 3: And the spirit of Egypt shall fail in the midst thereof; and I will destroy the counsel thereof: and they shall seek to the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards.

4: And the Egyptians will I give over into the hand of a cruel lord; and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts.

Headline: Egypt's new president will have 'full powers'

Egypt's interim President Adly Mansour, who promised that the "new constitution will establish a modern civil state," said the country's new leader will have "full powers," without detailing what these powers are in a television address on Sunday. Mansour said Egypt "is currently facing a ferocious attack," without specifying the attackers. He warned about those who misunderstand Islam and "legalize bloodshed" of the Egyptian people, urging for a more moderate understanding of Islam. Mansour added: "We are in a dire need to renew the religious discourse to safeguard our Islamic values and its principles, and to get rid of this religious polarization." "The Egyptian security forces are watchful, and victory is inevitably coming," he said. He also urged Egyptians "to lead the ship of the nation to the shores of safety" and vote for the new constitution in which "moderate" Islam was used as a base for legislation. But as Adly urged Egyptians to go to the referendum, hundreds of student supporters of ousted Islamist President Mohammad Mursi battled security forces Sunday at three Cairo universities. The protests took place two days before the referendum, scheduled on Tuesday and Wednesday that officials said will be protected by a massive deployment of soldiers and police. Jan 12, 2014

Headline: Clashes leave student protester dead in Cairo

A student has been killed in clashes between Egypt's security forces and demonstrators supporting ousted president, Mohamed Morsi, in the capital Cairo. The protester was killed on Sunday when police attacked al-Azhar University students in Cairo's eastern district of Nasr City and fired birdshot and teargas at them. The students were protesting against the custody of 15 female colleagues. Also on Sunday, police forces used teargas to disperse the demonstrators marching outside Cairo University, shouting slogans against the army and the police. Student marches took place at Ain Shams University in Cairo, October 6 University in 6th of October City, and Mansoura University in the city of Mansoura. The fresh clashes come as Egypt's Interim President Adly Mansour called on people to participate in Tuesday and Wednesday vote on the country's draft constitution. Over 52 million people are eligible to vote in the two-day poll. Jan 13, 2014

Jeremiah 49:24-27

New King James Version (NKJV)

- 24 Damascus has grown feeble;
She turns to flee,
And fear has seized her.
Anguish and sorrows have taken her like a woman in labor.
- 25 Why is the city of praise not deserted, the city of My joy?
- 26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets,
And all the men of war shall be cut off in that day," says the LORD of hosts.
- 27 "I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus,
And it shall consume the palaces of Ben-Hadad."^[a]

The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap.

Headline: Syrian government shelling kills more than 20 in Homs

Syrian activists say government shelling has killed more than 20 people in the central city of Homs. The British-based Syrian Observatory for Human Rights said Sunday that the number is expected rise because dozens of people were critically wounded in the shelling of the rebel-held Waer area of Homs. The Observatory said the shelling occurred Saturday. The activist collective, the Local Coordination Committees, also published similar information. Forces loyal to Syrian President Bashar al-Assad have been widening an air assault on rebel-held areas in recent weeks, targeting opposition-held residential areas and killing civilians. Syrian rebels have also targeted Assad-loyal areas with indiscriminate mortar fire. On Sunday, Syria's state media said rebel-fired mortar shells killed two people in the Assad-loyal Zahra area of the city.

Headline: Syria crisis: US and Russia discuss possible ceasefires

The US and Russia have discussed the possibility of "localised ceasefires" in Syria ahead of peace talks to be held in Switzerland next week. Russia also said Syria was considering opening humanitarian access to besieged rebel areas. A prisoner exchange is also under consideration, US Secretary of State John Kerry and Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov said. The two men are in Paris to discuss arrangements for the Geneva talks. "We talked today about the possibility of trying to encourage a ceasefire, maybe a localised ceasefire in Aleppo," Mr Kerry told a news conference after talks with Mr Lavrov and Lakhdar Brahimi, the UN and Arab League envoy for Syria. Both Mr Kerry and Lavrov said they hoped ceasefires could be in place before the talks, along with plans for prisoner exchanges and the opening of humanitarian corridors. Mr Kerry said it was up to the Syrian government to show they were serious.

Ezekiel (Yechezk'el) War

Comment: Listed below are the nations which will attack Israel from Ezekiel chapter 38 and their modern day names.

Gog is the leader of the Russian invasion of Israel.

Magog, Meshech, and Tubal comprise modern day Russia.

Persia is Iran, parts of northern Iraq, and Afghanistan.

Cush is Ethiopia and Sudan.

Put is Libya and will most likely include Tunisia, Algeria, and Morocco.

Gomer is Eastern Germany.

Beth Togarmah is Turkey and Armenia.

There are major differences between the Psalm 83 war and the Ezekiel 38 war which shows us they are not the same war. Here are a few major differences. At the current time Israel is still calling for Peace and safety and they have bars, gates, and walls to protect them from the PLO. The told Ezekiel this war will take place when Israel is living in peace and feeling safe. As long as the enemies of Israel listed in the Psalm 83 war are working to wipe out Israel, Israel will never feel safe enough to remove any of the bars, gates, or walls which shows us the Psalm war has to take place first. Another major difference between the Psalm war and Ezekiel war is the nations who attack Israel are different. In the Psalm 83 war you see the nations that border Israel attacking her. The nations listed to attack Israel in the Ezekiel war do not show any of the nations which are listed in the Psalm war. Why? The answer is simple. Israel will already have destroyed the nations who attacked them in the Psalm 83 war and they will make no other to attempt to wipe them out. When the nations listed in the Ezekiel war see what Israel did to their Brothers listed in the Psalm war they in turn will pick up the torch and try to do what the Psalm 83 nations couldn't do, wipe Israel off the map. How will this Ezekiel 38-39 war end. God tells us that 5/6 of the entire army that attacks Israel will be killed. At the end of the day Israel will have won the Psalm 83 war and the Ezekiel war. In the Psalm 83 war the IDF will have defeated their enemies. In the Ezekiel it will be God who steps in to wipe out all the armies who try to wipe out Israel. The current events you are now witnessing in the Middle East is setting up the scene for both the Psalm war and Ezekiel war.

Iran: Jeremiah 49:34-39

“Thus says the LORD of hosts: ‘Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, The foremost of their might.

³⁶ Against Elam I will bring the four winds From the four quarters of heaven, And scatter them toward all those winds; There shall be no nations where the outcasts of Elam will not go. ³⁷ For I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies And before those who seek their life. I will bring disaster upon them, My fierce anger,’ says the LORD; ‘And I will send the sword after them Until I have consumed them. ³⁸ I will set My throne in Elam, And will destroy from there the king and the princes,’ says the LORD. ³⁹ ‘But it shall come to pass in the latter days: I will bring back the captives of Elam,’ says the LORD.”

Headline: Clock ticking on Iran talks, possible further U.S. sanctions

The clock is ticking on an interim nuclear deal with Iran, as well as efforts in Congress to pass new sanctions for greater leverage in global negotiations on a comprehensive accord. Sunday's announcement that a six-month interim agreement formally begins on January 20 means that Iran must dismantle or freeze some of its nuclear program and open it to more international inspections in return for limited relief from crippling international sanctions. Assuming all goes as planned, further negotiations between Iran and the United States, France, Russia, China, Great Britain and Germany will seek a broader agreement intended to prevent Tehran from developing a nuclear weapon. Meanwhile, pro-Israel members of Congress are seeking additional sanctions against Iran that would take effect if the talks break down. The question is whether the steps Iran is taking under the interim deal will blunt or bolster the congressional push for more sanctions. President Barack Obama warns that approving new sanctions legislation now would undermine the talks, and he promised Sunday to veto such a measure if it came to his desk. Secretary of State John Kerry said Sunday that beginning the interim agreement on January 20 means that "for the first time in almost a decade, Iran's nuclear program will not be able to advance and parts of it will be rolled back." Iranian officials also confirmed the start date, state media reported.

Headline: Iraq PM rebukes UN's Ban on execution moratorium

A fresh spate of bomb blasts has left more than 20 people dead and dozens of others wounded in the Iraqi capital city of Baghdad. Police said that the deadliest attack on Monday took place in the Shia neighborhood of Shaab in eastern Baghdad, where a car bomb went off in a commercial area killing 11 people and injuring nearly 30 others. Four other people were also killed and dozens of others sustained injuries after a bomb exploded in a café in northwest of Baghdad. The violence coincides with a visit by UN Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon to the Arab country. Ban described the security situation in Iraq as “a source of great concern,” and urged the leaders of the count “to address the root causes of the problems.” He further stated that the government and people of Iraq “must unite in addressing this terrorism.” No group has claimed responsibility for the attacks, but Iraqi officials say the main suspects are militants linked to al-Qaeda.

Headline: South Sudan troops advancing on city of Bor

A South Sudanese official says army troops are advancing on the city of Bor in the state of Jonglei, the final state capital still in the hands of forces loyal to former vice president, Riek Machar.

“Bor is still in the hands of the rebels but our forces are still moving towards it,” South Sudan Colonel Philip Aguer said on Monday. The historical city of Bor - approximately 190 kilometers (120 mi) north of the capital, Juba - has already changed hands three times over the past month. The advancement followed developments on Friday when the South Sudanese army took over Bentiu, the capital of oil-producing northern Unity State, following days of fierce fighting that has forced tens of thousands to flee the area. Rebel fighters, however, claim that they are close to retaking Malakal, the capital of the oil-rich state of Upper Nile. Meanwhile in Juba, renewed heavy fighting is underway as the government grapples with rampant corruption, unrest and conflict in the deeply impoverished but oil-rich nation.

Headline: The Number Of Working Age Americans Without A Job Has Risen By Almost 10 Million Under Obama

That headline is not a misprint. The number of working age Americans that do not have a job has increased by nearly 10 million since Barack Obama first entered the White House. In January 2009, the number of “officially unemployed” workers plus the number of Americans “not in the labor force” was sitting at a grand total of 92.6 million. Today, that number has risen to 102.2 million. That means that the number of working age Americans that are not working has grown by close to 10 million since Barack Obama first took office. So why does the “official unemployment rate” keep going down? Well, it is because the federal government has been pretending that millions upon millions of unemployed workers have “left the labor force” over the past few years and do not want to work anymore. The government says that another 347,000 workers “left the labor force” in December. That is nearly five times larger than the 74,000 jobs that were “created” by the U.S. economy last month. And it is important to note that more than half of those jobs were temporary jobs, and it takes well over 100,000 new jobs just to keep up with population growth each month. So the unemployment rate should not have gone down. If anything, it should have gone up. In fact, if the federal government was using an honest labor force participation rate, the official unemployment rate would be far higher than it is right now. Instead of 6.7 percent, it would be 11.5 percent, and it has stayed at about that level since the end of the last recession.

Headline: (Repeated Story from Jan. 8th) Poverty level under Obama breaks 50-year record

Fifty years after President Johnson started a $20 trillion taxpayer-funded war on poverty, the overall percentage of impoverished people in the U.S. has declined only slightly and the poor have lost ground under President Obama. Aides said Mr. Obama doesn't plan to commemorate the anniversary Wednesday of Johnson's speech in 1964, which gave rise to Medicaid, Head Start and a broad range of other federal anti-poverty programs. The president's only public event Tuesday was a plea for Congress to approve extended benefits for the long-term unemployed, another reminder of the persistent economic troubles during Mr. Obama's five years in office. Although the president often rails against income inequality in America, his policies have had little impact overall on poverty. A record 47 million Americans receive food stamps, about 13 million more than when he took office. The poverty rate has stood at 15 percent for three consecutive years, the first time that has happened since the mid-1960s. The poverty rate in 1965 was 17.3 percent; it was 12.5 percent in 2007, before the Great Recession. About 50 million Americans live below the poverty line, which the federal government defined in 2012 as an annual income of $23,492 for a family of four.

Headline: Japan holds military drill as S. China Sea islands dispute widens

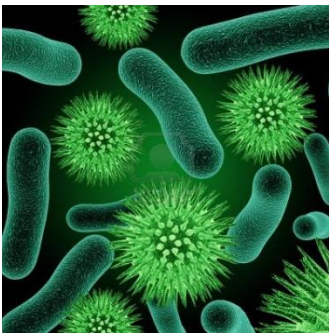

Reports out of Chinese state media indicate that Beijing is set to invade an island in the South China Sea “illegally occupied” by US ally the Philippines, stoking concerns that the tension filled region could explode. The article originally appeared at qianzhan.com under the headline, ‘Sudden major move of Chinese troops this year to recover Zhongye Island by force’, and was translated by the China Daily Mail. Relying on US support, the Philippines is so arrogant as to announce in the New Year that it will increase its navy and air force deployment at Zhongye Island, a Chinese island that it has illegally occupied for years. It will be an intolerable insult to China According to experts, the Chinese navy has drawn a detailed combat plan to seize the island and the battle will be restricted within the South China Sea. The report goes on to state that the “battle” will not include a Chinese invasion of Filipino territories, although the Philippines will undoubtedly view Beijing’s attack on Zhongye Island as precisely that since it has been occupied by Filipino troops for over 40 years. “Of course, claims that “battle will be restricted” are nothing but taunting and should China launch an offensive here, we suspect the already dry and brittle tinder box in the South (and East) China Sea could rapidly escalate,” reports Zero Hedge. The report arrives hot on the heels of Japan’s announcement that it will “nationalize” around 280 islands in the disputed region, the latest shot across the bow in a tit-for-tat build up that experts have warned heralds the beginning of a new cold war. China’s latest act of aggression arrives after months of military posturing and bellicose rhetoric. Jan 13, 2014

Prophecy Sign: Pestilence & Plagues Luke 21:11 & Revelation 6:8

“And there will be great earthquakes in various places, and famines and pestilences; and there will be fearful sights and great signs from heaven.” (Luke)

*“So I looked, and behold, a pale horse. And the name of him who sat on it was Death, and Hades followed with him. And power was given to them over a fourth of the earth, to kill with sword, with hunger, with death (Thanatos in Greek meaning the death of the body whether natural or violent), and by the beasts of the earth” (Revelation)*

Headline: Death toll from new China bird flu rises: WHO

Chinese researchers have discovered mutations in the new strain of avian influenza A, known as H7N9, and have found that the virus has the ability to spread from human to human, the latest issue of the Guangzhou-based Southern Metropolis Weekly reported. George F Gao, vice president of the Beijing Institutes of Life Sciences under the Chinese Academy of Sciences and deputy director-general of the Chinese Center for Disease Control and Prevention, told the Weekly that he and his research colleagues have broken down the mechanisms of transmission of the H5N1 and H7N9 avian flu viruses. The research team pointed out in a study published in the Science magazine in September last year that they have identified mutations in four key sites of amino acids of the H7N9 strain and found that the virus has an ability to bind to human cells in the upper respiratory tract.

Although the H7N9 and H5N1 viruses have not had the ability to widely spread from human to human, after undergoing genetic mutations and redistribution through mutations, they become better able to bind to human cells in the upper respiratory tract and can evolve into bird flu strains with the ability to transmit among humans, the team says.

Prophecy Sign: EARTHQUAKES/WEATHER

(Isaiah 24:19-20 , Matthew 24:7, Mark 13:8 , Luke 21:11 , Luke 21:25 - storms)

Headline: 6.4-quake shakes Puerto Rico, causing minor damage

A strong earthquake out to sea that shook Puerto Rico early Monday is one of the largest to hit the U.S. territory in recent years, cracking floors and causing some power outages, but no major damages or injuries, officials said. The 6.4-magnitude quake struck just after midnight about 35 miles (57 kilometers) north of Hatillo, at a depth of 17 miles (28 kilometers), according to the U.S. Geological Survey. At least 70 aftershocks have been reported since then, with at least three of a magnitude 3.5 or greater, said Gisela Baez Sanchez, a geologist with Puerto Rico's Seismic Network. "All of Puerto Rico is in a seismic danger zone," she said in a phone interview. "We have to be prepared." Broken windows, a busted water line and cracked floors and walls were reported in some areas along the north coast, while authorities said power outages occurred in the north city of Bayamon, close to the island's capital. Dozens of people said they felt buildings sway in the capital of San Juan, about 61 miles (98 kilometers) from the quake's epicenter. Hundreds of people called Puerto Rico's emergency management agency, but no injuries or major damages have been reported, spokesman Carlos Acevedo said in a phone interview.

Headline: Strong cyclone hits Tonga, killing at least 1

Authorities were searching remote islands for cyclone victims on Sunday after the most powerful storm to hit Tonga in decades cut a swathe of destruction through this South Pacific archipelago, leaving at least one person dead and several injured. Relief efforts following Saturday's storm were concentrating on the Ha'apai islands — one of Tonga's three island groups between the main island of Tongatapu in the south and the Vava'u islands to the north, Tonga's Director of Emergencies Leveni Aho said. Cyclone Ian hit Tonga with gusts up to 287 kilometers (178 miles) per hour. The storm was later downgraded from the top of five-scale destructive cyclones to category four, with gusts of up to 250 kph (155 mph). On Sunday, the cyclone was tracking southeast away from Tonga. Two navy patrol boats carrying tarpaulins, tents and other emergency supplies left Tongatapu to bring help to victims who were cut off in the Ha'apai islands. Aho said authorities have been unable to make telephone contact with 23 islands, which account for most of the inhabited islands in the Ha'apai group.

Headline: Floods hit south Philippines; 20 dead, 13 missing

Two days of heavy rains set off floods and landslides in the southeastern Philippines, leaving at least 20 people dead, 13 missing and thousands displaced, officials said Monday. Most of the dead and missing came from floods and landslides that hit Compostella Valley and Davao Oriental provinces, said Maj. Reynaldo Balido, spokesman for the disaster-response agency. A landslide Monday damaged five houses in Cagdianao municipality in Dinagat Island, off the northeastern coast of the main southern island of Mindanao, killing six residents including two boys aged 2 and 14, said police officer Elbert Ompoc. Another man drowned in Agusan del Sur province's Prosperidad township, on Mindanao, and seven others were missing, according to the civil defense regional bureau.

The flooding, triggered by rains from a low pressure area, has affected 132,000 people from 10 provinces. Liza Mazo, a regional disaster-response official, said some 10,000 people fled to safer grounds in four provinces and an island. The same area was hit by a typhoon in December 2012, leaving nearly 2,000 people dead and missing and causing massive destruction.

The Arab Spring in Prophecy

(Perilous Times Luke 21:9 & Nation against Nation, Kingdom against Kingdom Matt.24:7)
(Revelation 6:3-4 Revelation 6:8)

“For nation shall rise against nation,
and kingdom against kingdom.
There will be earthquakes in various places, and there will be famines and sedition; these are the beginning of the labor pains.”

Mark 13:8

Luke 21:9 and Matthew 24:7 speak of nation against nation and kingdom against kingdom in the end times. Revelation 6:3-4 speaks of the fiery red horse given power to make men slay one another and Revelation 6:8 speaks again of this red horse in conjunction with the pale horse of Death and Hades, as the one that has the power to kill by sword. I like to call this "The Arab Spring in Prophecy" because for us it is easy to identify- that's what the world calls it.

Luke 21:9: wars & commotions; the Greek word here is Akatastasia, meaning instability, a state of disorder, disturbance, confusion (revolutions)

Matthew 24:7: the Greek word for nation is Ethnos & refers to various ethnic groups fighting among themselves, where the next sentence in the verse refers to kingdoms (basileiva) fighting one another (not to be confused with an actual kingdom but rather the right or authority to rule over a kingdom) I have tried to separate it into areas that sweep EAST from the point of North America.

Africa- ONLY COUNTRIES NOT IN PROPHECY

Headline: South Africa clashes leave two dead, two wounded

Two South African residents have been killed in clashes between protesters and police forces in the North West Province of the country, officials say. Clashes broke out on Monday between police and residents of a village near the town of Brits - approximately 80 kilometers (50 miles) north of the largest city in the country, Johannesburg - leaving two demonstrators dead and wounding two others, police said. "Two protestors died and two were wounded when they marched to Brits and clashed with police. It is suspected that police fired shots but this is being investigated," police spokesman, Sabata Mokgwabone, confirmed. Authorities failed to say whether or not the police used live ammunition or rubber bullets to quell the protest. The villagers marched to a nearby town to protest against water shortages, police said. The incident marks the latest in a series of confrontations between law enforcement and protesters who are demanding improved government facilitation in public services.

Headline: Central African Republic's new leader orders security crackdown

Central African Republic's new interim leader ordered the deployment of hundreds more troops in the capital Bangui on Monday with instructions to shoot troublemakers "at point blank range" in a bid to end months of religious violence. Fighting, attacks on mosques and the looting of Muslim-owned shops have persisted in Bangui since the resignation of rebel leader-turned-president Michel Djotodia last Friday under intense international pressure. Djotodia seized power last March at the head of the Muslim Seleka rebel coalition, unleashing a wave of killings and looting targeting the majority Christian population which in turn sparked revenge attacks by "anti-balaka" Christian militia. A Red Cross official said its workers had collected 39 bodies from the streets of Bangui since Friday. Sporadic violence has continued despite the presence of 1,600 French troops and 4,000 African Union peacekeepers. Alexandre-Ferdinand Nguendet, the head of the National Transitional Council (CNT) who has taken over the presidency until a new leader is chosen this month, said he was deploying 400 additional troops to the streets of Bangui.

Headline: 1000s of anti-government protesters rally in Ukraine

Thousands of anti-government protesters have staged a demonstration in Ukraine's capital city Kiev to condemn the crackdown in the country. On Sunday, at least 5000 protesters rallied at Kiev's Independence Square, known locally as the Maidan, reviving a string of anti-government demonstrations that began in November 2013. "What are the next steps? We will fight, ... protest peacefully," Vitaly Klitschko, an opposition leader and former world heavyweight boxing champion, said. He called on Ukrainians across the country to continue street and other protests.

"We will fight to defend our country," said Klitschko, adding, "We will take part in a peaceful protest so that the authorities will hear us." This comes after Ukraine's leading opposition figure and former interior minister Yuriy Lutsenko was injured in clashes between protesters and the country's riot police outside a courthouse in Kiev in the early hours of Saturday. The opposition leader was transferred to intensive care after he was beaten by police.

Headline: Thailand crisis: Protesters launch Bangkok 'shutdown'

Protesters are blocking roads in parts of the Thai capital, Bangkok, in a bid to oust the government before snap elections on 2 February. The protesters have built barricades and occupied key road junctions, and want to replace the government with an unelected "People's Council". The government has deployed 18,000 security personnel to maintain order. Prime Minister Yingluck Shinawatra has offered to meet protest leaders to discuss potentially delaying the polls.

Protesters allege Ms Yingluck is a proxy for her brother, former Prime Minister Thaksin Shinawatra, who was ousted by the military in 2006 and is currently in self-imposed exile. Thaksin-allied parties draw considerable support from rural voters and have won the last four elections. At least eight people have been killed since the protests began late last year. On Saturday, at least seven people were injured when unknown gunmen opened fire on demonstrators at the main rally site in Bangkok. On Sunday night, an unidentified gunman attacked demonstrators at a protest site, shooting at least one man, officials said. Police said a gunman also fired shots at the opposition party headquarters in a separate incident, although no casualties were reported.
